

ASIAN

VOLUME 65 • NUMBER 2 • MARCH/APRIL 2025

SURVEY

- 161 China in 2024: Xi Jinping's "Rejuvenation," Control, and Self-Sufficiency Goals Intensify Economic Slowdown and Geopolitical Standoff
SHALE HOROWITZ
- 175 Japan in 2024: Money Politics Interrupts Liberal Democratic Party Dominance, Again
AMY CATALINAC
- 189 India in 2024: Modi Weakened, but Still Dominant
CHRISTOPHER CLARY
- 202 Pakistan in 2024: Reconstituting a Hybrid Regime
MATTHEW J. NELSON
- 214 South Korea in 2024: Political Uncertainty, Economic Challenges, and Cultural Ascendancy
YOUNGJAE JIN
- 228 North Korea in 2024: Kim Jong Un's Multidimensional Strategies for Regime Consolidation
DOHEE KIM AND HAYAM KIM
- 239 Taiwan in 2024: A Rocky Start to the Democratic Progressive Party's Unprecedented Third Term
CHUNG-LI WU AND ALEX MIN-WEI LIN
- 252 Vietnam in 2024: Death in the Family
MINH D. TRINH
- 263 Indonesia in 2024: Prabowo, Patronage, and Power Plays
MICHAEL BUEHLER
- 275 Thailand in 2024: Political Stalemate Continues
ERIK MARTINEZ KUHONTA
- 286 Malaysia in 2024: Holding Steady but Aiming High
MEREDITH L. WEISS

A BIMONTHLY REVIEW OF CONTEMPORARY ASIAN AFFAIRS
PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PRESS

- 297 The Philippines in 2024: Dueling Dynasties, Disruptive Threats
ARIES A. ARUGAY AND JEAN ENCINAS-FRANCO
- 308 The United States and Asia in 2024: Evolving Contours of Cooperation and Competition
SHEENA CHESTNUT GREITENS
- 323 Cambodia in 2023 and 2024: Hun Manet Rules, but His Father's Shadow Looms Large
BOPHA PHORN AND NEIL LOUGHLIN
- 336 Laos in 2024: Settling into Debt Distress
KEITH BARNEY
- 348 Mongolia in 2023 and 2024: Economic Recovery
and International Attention
TAMIR CHULTEMSUREN AND JULIAN DIERKES
- 359 Singapore in 2023 and 2024: Pursuing Stability amid Precarity
WALID JUMBLATT ABDULLAH