

Communist and Post-Communist Studies

An International Interdisciplinary Journal

Notes for Contributors

The editors invite the submission of articles and other communications on all communist and post-communist states and communist movements, including both their internal developments and their international relations. Priority will be given to articles attempting comparative analyses of historical as well as current developments in the communist and post-communist world, and comparative analyses of problems of Marxist ideology. Studies may be comparative with respect to other communist states (or parties) or to non-communist and post-communist societies. The editors aim to provide comparative foci on a given subject (e.g. education in China) by inviting or soliciting comments of a comparative character from scholars specializing in the same subject matter but in different countries (e.g. education in Romania, Poland etc.). Through multiple assignments, book reviews and review articles are also utilized as vehicles for comparative analyses. The journal attempts to extend coverage to underdeveloped disciplines in comparative communism such as education, geography, religion, aesthetics, etc., in addition to the traditional strongholds of history, political science, economics and international relations.

Manuscripts should be double spaced throughout, including footnotes and displayed quotations, and submitted in triplicate. Since manuscripts are sent out anonymously for editorial evaluation, the author's name and affiliation should appear only on a separate covering page. Articles should normally be between 6000 and 9000 words in length. Subheadings should be used every few pages and should be flush with the left margin. Quotations of six or more lines should be indented from both margins with no quotation marks. References and notes should be signalled serially throughout the article by superscript numbers 1, 2, 3, etc. The references and notes themselves should appear at the end of the manuscript. For a book (example 1 below) please give: author; title; place; publisher; date of publication; page reference. For an article (example 2): author; title of article; title of journal; volume; issue number; date; page reference. For an article in an edited collection (example 3): author; article title; editor and title of collection; remaining publishing details for a book. The information should be presented as follows:

1. Leon Trotsky, The Crisis of the French Section (1935–36) (New York: Pathfinder, 1977), p. 50.
2. Kenneth Jowitt, "An Organizational Approach to the Study of Political Culture in Marxist-Leninist Systems," American Political Science Review, LXVIII, no. 3 (September 1974), p. 1180.
3. Richard Solomon, "Mao's Attempt to Reintegrate the Chinese Polity," in A. Doak Barnett, ed., Chinese Communist Policies in Action (Seattle: University of Washington Press, 1970), p. 308.

The editors assume no responsibility for statements of fact or opinion made by contributors, nor do they vouch for the accuracy of translations. Also no responsibility can be assumed for loss of or damage to unsolicited manuscripts.

All manuscripts and inquiries about editorial matters should be addressed to Professor Andrzej Korbonski, Department of Political Science, University of California, Los Angeles, CA 90024, USA. Tel: (213) 825 3784

Book Reviews: Books intended for review and book review correspondence should be addressed to Professor Andrzej Korbonski at the address above. Authors are urged to call their books to the attention of the Editor to ensure that the books will be considered for review. Those interested in reviewing books or writing a review essay should submit a correct vita.

Offprints and Reprints: Fifty offprints of each article will be supplied free of charge to the principal author. Further copies (minimum 100) can be ordered prior to publication. Reprints (minimum 100) can be ordered at any time. Enquiries should be addressed directly to the Reprints Department, Butterworth-Heinemann Ltd., Linacre House, Jordan Hill, Oxford OX2 8DP, England, and not to the editors.

TRANSLITERATION TABLE

The transliteration system employed by this journal is designed for the convenience of readers who do not know Russian. The aim is to approximate the Russian sounds without diacritical marks, superscripts or apostrophes.

The following transliteration table is used except where names are more recognizable in a traditional variation (e.g., Tchaikovsky, Moscow):

а	a	к	k	х	kh	* r = v in genitive endings ero (evo).
б	b	л	l	ц	ts	oro (ovo).
в	v	м	m	ч	ch	e = ye when initial and after б, в and all
г	g*	н	n	ш	sh	vowels except й, or when preceded by д	d	о	o	щ	shch	vowel-consonant combinations as in
е	e	п	p	ъ	(omit) ‡	Slavyanye.
ё	yo†	р	r	ы	y	†ё = o after ж and ш.
ж	zh	с	s	ь	‡	††Combinations й и and ий = y.
з	z	т	t	э	e	‡ б and в before vowels = y.
и	i	у	u	ю	yu ‡ ‡	‡ ‡ ю after ы = iu.
й	i††	ф	f	я	ya‡	‡ ‡ я after ы = ia; after и = a, as in Izvestia.