

CURRENT HISTORY

February 2010

Vol. 109, No. 724

CONTENTS

- 43 Lula's Last Year Kenneth Maxwell
Brazilian President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva has begun his last year in office as a popular leader at home and a star in international circles.
- 47 How Reform Has Powered Brazil's Rise Riordan Roett
Lula's pragmatism, building on the policies of his predecessor, Fernando Henrique Cardoso, has hastened his country's economic advance. Sixth in a series on changing relations between governments and markets.
- 53 Brazil as Regional Leader: Meeting the Chávez Challenge Sean W. Burges
Brazil has had to deflect the Venezuelan president's regional ambitions while building its own leadership role in Latin America.
- 60 Brazil and the New Global Order Andrew Hurrell
On issues like trade and climate change, Lula has sought to increase Brazil's influence in multilateral forums while challenging the existing forms of global governance.
- 67 Obama and Latin America:
New Beginnings, Old Frictions Michael Shifter
Despite the American president's popularity and the promise of a more productive partnership, frustrations persist in US–Latin American relations.
- 74 The Return of Continuismo? Shelley A. McConnell
Recent electoral changes in several countries have raised fears that more presidents in the region may search for ways to extend their stays in office.
- PERSPECTIVE
- 81 Perilous Times for Latin America Theodore J. Piccone
The recent economic downturn has reinforced the view that governments in Latin America need to be stronger. But will stronger states be more democratic?
- BOOKS
- 84 The Accidental Coup William W. Finan Jr.
A new book revisits Venezuela's political crisis of April 2002, when President Hugo Chávez was forced out of office and then quickly reinstated.
- THE MONTH IN REVIEW
- 86 December 2009
An international chronology of events in December, country by country, day by day.