

CURRENT HISTORY

February 2020

Vol. 119, No. 814

CONTENTS

- 43 How Criminals Govern in Latin America and the Caribbean..... Enrique Desmond Arias
Criminal networks are deeply embedded in political systems across the region, often colluding with elected officials and the police. Fifth in a series on ways of governing.
- 49 Unprotected: Why Argentina's Poor Turn to Peronism..... Javier Auyero
Poor people in Argentina have long relied on a patchwork of patronage networks, but even these have frayed over the past few years of austerity policies.
- 54 The Challenging Path to Caribbean Integration..... Patsy Lewis
For decades, efforts to build common structures to facilitate freedom of movement and trade within the region have been slowed by disputes over the islands' divergent interests.
- 60 Why the Brazilian Amazon Burns..... Susanna Hecht
The president is ruthlessly dismantling the laws and institutions that once protected the environmentally critical region and its native inhabitants from land grabbers.
- 66 History on Foot: Walking Mexico City..... Mauricio Tenorio-Trillo
A perambulation through the megalopolis takes the author through streets brimming with ugliness, beauty, and memories. Both monstrous and fragile, the city is also resilient.
- PERSPECTIVE
- 73 Time for an Alternative Politics of Migration..... Alexandra Délano Alonso
A surge of migrants from Central America has drawn harsh responses from both the United States and Mexico. Activists are showing the way toward more humane policies.
- BOOKS
- 77 Jamaica's Paradoxes..... Brian Meeks
An eminent sociologist who hails from the island explores the historical and institutional reasons why a nation world famous for music and sports has had less success with its economy.
- THE MONTH IN REVIEW
- 80 December 2019
An international chronology of events in December, country by country, day by day.