The book is a compilation of the opinions of authorities on the explosive international situation. It reviews the necessity of the Marshall Plan and predicts its chances of success with or without political and military intervention.

In addition to presenting the broad over all picture the book brings together much source material: Acheson's Mississippi address, The Truman plan, The Marshall Plan, Harriman Reports, Krug Report, Nourse Report, Aldrich Plan, etc.

It presents the reactions of Gromyko, Molotov, Vishinsky and reprints the "Soviet note to fourteen nations."

American authorities quoted at length include: Marquis Childs, William L. Clayton, Henry Hazlitt, Arthur Krock, Walter Lippmann, Harold E. Stassen, Robert A. Taft and others.

Public opinion will be a major factor in determining the success or failure of the Marshall Plan. One presidential aspirant is decrying it. It will be expensive and call for sacrifices, BUT in dollars and cents it will cost Americans approximately five per cent of what they paid for the last war.

The Marshall Plan was conceived to save civilization. Understand and support it.
