

Departures in Critical Qualitative Research

VOLUME 10 NUMBER 2 SUMMER 2021

GUEST EDITORS' INTRODUCTION

- Working the Circuit: Cultural Studies of Florida 1

AISHA S. DURHAM, WESLEY JOHNSON, AND SASHA J. SANDERS

ESSAYS

- Hurricanes as a Call to Remember: An Autoethnography of Queer Ecological Temporality 7

LD MATTSON

- Memorializing Pulse: The Vernacular as Living Memory 15

RACHEL E. SILVERMAN

- Movement: Navigating #MSDStrong and Activism 24

JACOB G. ABRAHAM, RACHEL B. ARCHAMBAULT, AMY R. KENNY KLEINMAN, BEN LIPPEL, AND STACEY L. LIPPEL

- Black and Blue: White Alienation and Anti-Racist Allyship after Trayvon Martin 33

WESLEY JOHNSON

- Fugitive State: Toward a Cimarrona Approach for Florida Cultural Studies 41

JILLIAN HERNANDEZ

- No Spanish in Cinderella's Kingdom: A Situated Ethnography of Disney World's Engagement with Elena of Avalor 50

DIANA LEON-BOYS

- Home-Schooling in David Makes Man 59

SASHA J. SANDERS AND ANJULIET G. WOODRUFFE

- “Eat, Pray, Party!”: Reflections on MTV’s Floribama Shore, the Florida Panhandle, and Floridian-Southern Identity 68

CASSIDY D. ELLIS AND LACEY COREY BROWN

- Spaces and Places: Autoethnography of a Black City 81

ALISHA L. MENZIES

- Professional Wrestling in a Time of Social Distancing 88

BROOKS OGLESBY

BOOK REVIEWS

- Finding Agency and Humanity in The Queer Life of Things 97

JUSTIN J. RUDNICK

- The Irresistible World of Tawaifs: History, Imagination, and a Web of Stories 101

SHOHINI GHOSH
