

Supplementary material:

Figure S2: Flight paths of the aircraft experiments

Flight paths for the nine mass balance experiments performed at Indianapolis during November-December 2014 (date in figures is mm/dd). Each flight includes one upwind transect and several downwind transects. Black arrows represent wind direction. Color scales represent the height above ground. VP = vertical profiles.

