

Figure S4. Effect of Weed Suppression Management Practices on Sensory Attributes of Tomatoes.

Significant differences were found in means of (a) overall sensory desirability and, (b) visual appeal of tomato fruit across the three weed suppression treatments (control, clover cover crop, and black plastic mulch).

