State Prosecutors: Their Impact on Mass Incarceration and Criminal Justice Reform

EDITOR’S OBSERVATIONS

Nora V. Demleitner, State Prosecutors at the Center of Mass Imprisonment and Criminal Justice Reform 187

Lauren-Brooke Eisen and Courtney M. Oliva, Reimagining a Prosecutor’s Role in Sentencing 195

Carissa Byrne Hessick, Local Prosecutor Elections: Results of a National Study 203

Rory Fleming, Prosecutor-Driven “Second Look” Policies Are Encouraging, but Not a Panacea 205

Sabrina Margret Bierer, Bettering Prosecutorial Engagement to Reduce Crime, Prosecutions, and the Criminal Justice Footprint 212

Anne Metz, A Qualitative Perspective on Alternative Sentencing Practices in Virginia 221

National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, The Effects of Incarceration and Reentry on Community (2020): The Perspective from the District Attorney’s Office 225

Supreme Court of Virginia, In re: Underwood, Nos. 190497 & 190498 (May 2, 2019) 228

Sheldon A. Evans, In the Shadow of Shular: Conduct Can Unify the Disjointed Categorical Approaches 231

DISTRICT ATTORNEYS’ REACTIONS TO COVID-19

Fair and Just Prosecution, Elected Prosecutors Call for Dramatic Reduction in Incarcerated and Detained Populations in Response to Coronavirus (March 25, 2020) 235

Joint Statement from Charlottesville-Albemarle Commonwealth’s Attorneys (Albemarle County and City of Charlottesville, VA, March 19, 2020) 237

State’s Attorney Mosby Urges Governor to Take Action on Courts, Prisons, and Jails (Baltimore, MD, March 18, 2020) 238