

Kate Stith & Kenneth P. Coleman, Marvin Frankel’s Sentencing Reform Journey: 1970–1978	288
Michael Tonry, Doing Injustice: Exchanging One “Arbitrary, Cruel, and Reckless” Sentencing System for Another	293
Ronald Weich, Law without Order, Then Too Much Order, Then Not Enough?	300
Jonathan J. Wroblewski, Marvin, through the Looking-Glass	304
FROM JUDGE FRANKEL’S ARCHIVES
Marvin E. Frankel, Remarks on Sentencing: Columbia Law Review’s Seventy First Anniversary Banquet (1971)	311
Marvin E. Frankel, Suggestion on Sentencing Procedure (1972)	314
Marvin E. Frankel, Bergman Opinion (1976)	315

EDITORS’ OBSERVATIONS
Steven L. Chanenson & Douglas A. Berman, Frankel at 50: A Half-Century’s Perspective on Criminal Sentences: Law Without Order	213
FRANKEL REFLECTIONS
Lynn Adelman, More Law Than We Needed: Marvin Frankel on Criminal Sentencing	220
Albert W. Alschuler, Be Careful What You Wish For	226
Jelani Jefferson Exum, Judge Frankel’s Fifty-Year-Old Invitation to Reconstruct Sentencing	234
Richard S. Frase, The Partial Success of Judge Frankel’s Sentencing Commission, Fifty Years On	240
Carissa Byrne Hessick, Legality, Legal Standards, and the Legacy of Marvin Frankel	249
Gerard E. Lynch, Marvin Frankel: A Reformer Reassessed (2009)	253
Gary P. Naftalis, Remembering Marvin	260
Marta Nelson, Introducing and Applying Guiding Principles to Strongly Limit Incarcerative Sentencing	262
Jon O. Newman, Remembering Marvin Frankel: Sentencing Reform But Not These Guidelines (2002)	268
William H. Pryor, Jr., Returning to Marvin Frankel’s First Principles in Federal Sentencing (2017)	271
Julian V. Roberts & Arie Freiberg, “Navigating the Uncharted Expanse”: Judge Frankel’s Legacy beyond the United States	280