SUBMISSIONS

The Journal of Musicology welcomes articles in all areas of musical scholarship, including history, criticism, analysis, and performance practice. The Journal does not regularly publish reviews, but does invite proposals for review essays on important books, music editions, and conference reports. All articles are published in English, but submissions in other languages will be considered. Submissions should be sent in electronic form (as an attachment to an e-mail message) to submissions@journalofmusicology.org. Please include an abstract and complete contact information (e-mail, telephone, and postal address). Full instructions, including a postal address for materials that cannot be sent electronically, are at www.journalofmusicology.org.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Mark Everist is Professor of Music at the University of Southampton. His research focuses on the music of western Europe in the period 1150–1330, French opera in the first half of the 19th century, Mozart, reception theory, and historiography. He is the author of Polyphonic Music in Thirteenth-Century France (1989), French Motets in the Thirteenth Century (1994), Music Drama at the Paris Odéon, 1824–1828 (2002), and Giacomo Meyerbeer and Music Drama in Nineteenth-Century Paris (2005), as well as editor of three volumes of the Magnus Liber Organi for Editions de l'Oiseau-Lyre (2001–2003).

Sean Gallagher is Associate Professor of Music at Harvard University. His research focuses on music in France, Italy, and the Low Countries in the 15th century. He is coeditor of Western Plainchant in the First Millennium (Ashgate, 2003), and is currently writing a book on Johannes Regis, to be published by Brepols. In Fall 2007 he will be Visiting Professor at Villa I Tatti in Florence.

Robert Nosow has written widely on 15th- and 16th-century topics, including articles in Rivista italiana di musicologia, Musical Quarterly, and Early Music History. He is currently preparing a monograph on ritual meanings in the 15th-century motet.

Peter J. Schmelz is Assistant Professor at Washington University in St. Louis, having previously taught at the University at Buffalo (SUNY). His forthcoming book, Such Freedom, If Only Musical: Unofficial Soviet Music during the Thaw, is published by Oxford University Press; and he has begun a new project on “crossovers” and the cultural accreditation of jazz and rock in the Soviet 1970s. Professor Schmelz is also Chair of the American Musicological Society’s Cold War and Music study group.
