CHRISTOPHER PYE
Leonardo’s Hand:
Mimesis, Sexuality, and
Early Modern Political Aesthetics  PAGE 1

ALISON HURLEY
Peculiar Christians, Circumstantial
Courtiers, and the Making of Conversation in Seventeenth-Century England  PAGE 33

DOROTHEA VON MÜCKE Authority, Authorship, and Audience: Enlightenment Models for a Critical Public  PAGE 60

ANDREAS MAYER
The Physiological Circus:
Knowing, Representing, and Training Horses in Motion
in Nineteenth-Century France  PAGE 88

KRISS RAVETTO-BIAGIOLI
Shadowed by Images: Rafael Lozano-Hemmer and the Art of Surveillance  PAGE 121

University of California Press